Power of Attorney & Proxy Agent Services

Meeting the needs of investors, dispersed across multiple time zones and geographies, becomes less complex and challenging with our power of attorney and proxy agency services, built around the evolving requirements of our clients

With investors increasingly dispersed across geographies and time zones, the challenge that companies face in meeting the needs of their investors has grown more complex. The Maples Group has built its offering around the needs of the client companies that it serves and is able to offer power of attorney and proxy agency services. These services are most commonly needed where it is required that a particular document is executed from within a local jurisdiction or where a company wishes to be able to offer its investors the opportunity to appoint an agent to serve as proxy and vote on its behalf at shareholder meetings.
