Elizabeth specialises in banking and finance law, advising clients in structuring, negotiating, implementing and restructuring a range of financing transactions. She acts for leading domestic and global financial institutions, alternative lenders, major corporates, private equity funds and limited partnerships across a wide range of domestic and cross-border finance transactions. These include real estate financing (investment and development), acquisition and leveraged finance, project finance and fund financing, through bilateral and syndicated deals. Elizabeth also advises on loan portfolio sales, acting for purchasers, vendors and servicers.

Background

Elizabeth joined the Maples Group in 2012 having previously worked for a large Irish corporate law firm. She has been ranked by Chambers Global and IFLR 1000. Chambers Global 2018 has described Elizabeth as a "commercial and knowledgeable lawyer with a strong can-do attitude". IFLR 2018/2019 ranked Elizabeth as "Highly Regarded" and said she adopted a "very commercial approach...within extremely challenging timelines. Demonstrated commitment and transparency throughout the transaction ensuring all parties knew and understood (our) position".
